My name is Ed Manning and I severely hurt myself back in 1993. I was in a tremendous amount of pain and I wasn't being treated correctly. I found Valley Pain Specialists but before that, instead of smiling and giving the kids hugs, or your spouse, or calling your friends and retreating from life. When I came to VPS from the front window to the back rooms, to the procedure rooms, the primary goal was always patient care. It's number one from the front window to the back room, you are number one. So, I plead with you, don't be that guy or gal that doesn't hug your kids because of pain, or give your spouse a hug and come out of that corner and don't be a grumpy curmudgen. I invite you with all speed to make the phone call, make the appointment and come in to be treated well, know that you're number one and be able to hug your kids, kiss your spouse and to give them a hug, laugh, get a little sleep, get more sleep. Do yourself that favor and the ones that you love. Call you friends. Spread the word. I thank you for kindly reading. Do yourself a favor and call Valley Pain Specialists today.
